It seems like only yesterday when you brought forth the book idea. Despite time constraints associated with the Palm Beach Centennial and rolling out the finished volume in a timely fashion for the Ambassadors' Dinner, you did it!

From sponsorship to photo spreads and editorial, the book was masterful. There was a story to tell and it was told with style and grace, capturing the true essence of Palm Beach: a town filled with diversity and enchantment that is hard to describe.

Your readiness to explain your concept and openness to suggestions and collaboration was a delightful learning experience – others should be so fortunate to work with you.
